The Healthy Community Living (HCL) project is about all people having opportunities to live well and participate fully in their communities.

We are looking for pictures of people, with and without disabilities, at home and in their communities sharing snapshots of their day, whatever they are doing!

Help us tell the story of healthy community living by sharing goals, achievements, challenges, skills, and creative solutions that others may benefit from.

Get Involved!

Website - Someone told you about HCL, but want to learn a little bit more? You can find out about the project, photo tips, and even join our team through the 'Get Involved' page!

Facebook - Follow us on Facebook to see featured photos and stories, hang out with our super cool HCL team, and share your own stories! This is the best place to find out what sort of pictures and stories we still need, along with any contests we might be having, along with other HCL news! Just remember - if you have some pictures to share, we need them on Flickr!

Flickr - Want to see what pictures other people have sent us? Have some pictures or videos of your own to share? Come by our Flickr page! If you want to be notified about a picture you have submitted winning a contest or being featured, you will need to sign up on our 'Get Involved' page on our website!

Newsletter - Sign up for our electronic newsletter that goes directly to your email to stay in the loop about contests, featured pictures, requests from our team, and that sort of thing! This is also great place to stay informed if you don't visit Facebook too often.

Email - This is for any questions you that the website, Facebook, and 'Get Involved' notices just don't quite answer. We'd love to hear from you!
